

TYLER LOFTIS

RECENT PAINTINGS

May 7 - June 6, 2015

Opening Reception May 7, 6 - 8 pm

This exhibition entitled “Tyler Loftis - recent paintings” opens Thursday May 7 with an opening reception from 6 - 8 pm at Leigh Morse Fine Arts and continues through June 6. This exhibition will be accompanied by a fully illustrated catalogue.

There is nothing to “get” or understand when you look at a Tyler Loftis painting. His paintings are a reverence of nature. In the artist’s words, “Nature is everything for me, I find every ism or style of painting within it. Deferring to the experience is paramount, letting nature guide me through the picture and show me its structures. I paint portraits of space, honoring the specific features of the moment or series of moments I’m depicting. Integrity of the experience is everything to me.”

Tyler Loftis was born in Kalamazoo, Michigan and moved to New York City in the late nineties to attend the New York Studio School. After many years there, he studied anatomy at The New York Academy of Art in Tribeca, NYC, and spent several years studying in Italy. He now lives and paints in the East Village. Tyler’s work is in multiple private collections across the United States and Europe.
